

An engagement ring symbolizing everlasting love made using an ethical approach

Contributed by Ivy Luxe
Wednesday, 21 October 2009

CRED Jewellery offers stunning bespoke ethical engagement rings for today's socially conscious couple, seeking the finest engagement ring that is certified as socially and environmentally responsible.

CRED Jewellery offers stunning bespoke ethical engagement rings for today's socially conscious couple, seeking the finest engagement ring that is certified as socially and environmentally responsible. Consumers are becoming more aware of the environmental destruction and social injustice, associated with the sourcing and production of jewellery and are more careful when choosing a ring.

CRED jewellery is made using platinum and 18ct fair trade gold sourced by Oro Verde, the world's premier supplier of ethically sourced precious metals. CRED are proud to use gold that is produced without mercury or cyanide and as with their gold their precious stones are traceable from mine to retail.

The solitaire collection is available in Platinum and 18ct yellow and white gold, the rings are designed with a fine and elegant finish set with a diamond that evokes thoughts of true love and great beauty.

Prices:

18ct yellow gold Princess open: £1,010

18ct white gold Princess open: £1,050

18ct yellow gold Princess cradle: £1,060

Platinum Brilliant cradle: £1,740

Stockists:

Available from www.credjewellery.com and the CRED Chichester Boutique