

Valentine's Day: Twenga launches comprehensive buying guide

Contributed by Twenga
Sunday, 31 January 2010

A wide range of choices both classic and original to tempt users online this February

London – January 25th, 2010. Twenga, the most comprehensive shopping search engine, has launched its 2010 Valentine's buying guide, with shopping ideas suited for everyone. Finding traditional favourites and quirky niche gifts couldn't be easier thanks to the breadth of the products shown on www.twenga.co.uk.

Fashionable this year

Users can pick up classics like perfume, champagne, watches and rose petals, as well as find the popular items for 2010. This year's must have gift for women is a Pandora Bracelet.

Say it differently

Romantics can start the day with breakfast in bed, saying 'I love you' on toast, thanks to a range of toast stamps. Or why not finish off the day in the bath, accompanied by a cool designer duck?

Say it heart shaped

Timeless classics abound this year with heart shaped cufflinks and keyrings, but users can branch out with interesting ideas such as heart shaped pans and heart shaped pasta for that romantic evening meal.

Hearty Treats - They say the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. If this old saying is true then you're going to shoot straight in the middle with this delicious tin of heartshaped hand-baked cupcakes.

<http://www.twenga.co.uk/search.php?q=cupcakes+heart>

Or why not create your own romantic biscuits and cookies with these funky metal cutters.

<http://www.twenga.co.uk/search.php?q=heart+cookie+cutters>

Better than Jack’s Beanstalk - For a novel way to show you care, what about this magic bean plant. As it grows, the words ‘l love you’ appear on the leaves! Magic !

<http://www.twenga.co.uk/search.php?q=i+love+you+bean+sprout>

Personally Yours - Add a special and individual touch to his or her iPhone iPod or laptop, with one of these high quality adhesive skins. They are easy to apply and leave a smooth finish, protecting the device from scuffs and adding a bit of originality. You can choose from the thousands of designs, including those with valentines-theme hearts, or create one of your own using photots you have taken yourself for a real personal touch.

<http://www.twenga.co.uk/search.php?q=heart+iTouch>

Close to your heart - If your sweetheart is far away, how about this personalised digital photo frame keyring? Small enough to fit in her pocket, but big enough to carry up to 56 different photos ! So now she can carry her favourite digital pictures of you wherever she goes.

<http://www.twenga.co.uk/search.php?q=heart+keyring>

Decorate the bedroom - If giving lingerie for Valentine’s Day is too predictable for you, take it a step further by dressing up the bedroom. Buy a new set of luxuirous egyptian cotton sheets, scatter with rose petals and light a few candles. There a wide selection of rose petals on Twenga.co.uk, from fresh to freeze-dried, silk and scented. You can even find petals embosed with different words, so you can create your own perfect seduction, with tantalising trails leading to the bedroom !

<http://www.twenga.co.uk/dir-Homewares,Pots-and-vases,Rose-petals>